GEN. KING PRAISED HIS HEROIC SOLDIERS

MEN OF WHOM THE OFFICER IS NOW VERY PROUD

GENERAL SMITH'S NAME IS ON THE ROLL OF HONOR

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. WASHINGTON, June 16.—The report of Brigadier General Charles King, commanding the First Brigade, First Division, during the fighting at Manila, early in the campaign, has been made public at the War Department. This brigade, composed of the First California, First Washington and First Idaho, saw some very hard fighting. It was while exerting an order of General King that Major McCauley fell leading his men of the Idaho Regiment. General King calls attention to the fact that the losses of his brigade were greater than of any other brigade in the corps. He also says that the damage inflicted on the enemy was very great, his men having buried 135 of the Filipinos. He adds: "I beg leave to call attention to the fact that this is the only exclusively volunteer brigade in the corps, and that it fought with all the steadieness, dash and discipline of their comrades, the regulars."

GALLANT OFFICERS.

"And now there devolves on me a duty that I falter in attempting. I saw no instance of shrinking—I saw many of daring leadership on the part of the officers and of devoted following on the part of the men. I shrink from discriminating, yet I should not deserve the faith of the command of which I am so proud were I to fail to publicly mention the officers who, acting under my orders, were most conspicuous. My regular commanding officers, Captain John C. DeLong, Captain Whalley, First Washington, and Major Flegel, First Idaho, bore themselves with marked bravery and ability. Whalley being wholly under the heaviest fire for two hours, time, his men held him up to the waist, Major McCauley, though heavily bleeding his men in the dash on a dangerous line. Major Whalley of the First Washington was an example of soldierly bearing throughout. Captain Scott was to command in Peñuelan Island, which was rapidly exposed and he and Captain Whittemore, First Idaho, won

Russell of Washington arrived today and has taken charge of the funeral of Congressman Bland. In the Opera House he had laid a hand somber candle upon which the remains were placed this afternoon.

As arranged, the funeral ceremony will consist of music by the combined church choirs, reading of the scripture lesson and pronouncing of the invocation, by Rev. J. W. Warkinson, of the Episcopal Church; Rev. W. K. Collins of the Methodist Church; Rev. J. E. Alexander of the M. E. Church South, who will deliver the closing prayer. REV. LAW DEFIES THE VESTRYMEN OF CHURCH

Will Give Them Royal Battle to Keep the Pulpit

Pastor Roasts John J. Valentine to a Finish

The Rev. V. Marshall Law, rector of the Church of the Advent in East Oakland, is going to make one of the greatest efforts to retain a pulpit ever known in the ecclesiastical annals of California. He feels that the vestrymen of his church have been misled into inaugurating a baseless war upon him, that they do not know as much about ecclesiastical law as he does, and that, with the law and right upon his side, he is going to win.

If it is going to be a royal church battle, the vestrymen have asked Rev. Law to resign. The pastor has given the vestrymen the laugh. He has no thought of resigning.

He will fight. And he will fight hard. Just wait for the opening of the battle. Somebody is going to get hurt.

The Rev. Law defies his vestrymen.

THE PASTOR'S STORY.

"I am not going to take any notice of the vestrymen's order and letter demanding that I resign my pulpit," said Dr. Law. "It all comes from their ignorance or misconception of their powers. Only Bishop Nichols has authority over my incumbency in my parish, and he will not be troubled by me, because he knows the facts in the case and knows that I am right.

"The vestrymen do not know. They are ignorant of ecclesiastical law, and they have been misled and poisoned as to the condition of things in the parish by one of their number, Mr. Reid.

AFTER MR. REID.

"Things were harmonious and flourishing enough until Mr. Reid came into this parish, as I was informed by my predecessor. Mr. Reid, the treasurer of the Church of the Advent, was at one time a member of the Tenth Avenue Baptist Church. He left, that relation in some sort of a rumpus and joined this church before my time. He got into trouble with Dr. Lathrop here. Dr. Lathrop told me at St. Helena, a few days before his death that the East Oakland parish was the hardest that he ever had anything to do with. That was on account of the presence in it of Mr. Reid. I found he was right.

VALENTINE MAD.

"Mr. Valentine has not entered the church to attend services since the evening of that date. Mr. Valentine has done much for the church, but he has done nothing towards paying the gas bills, nor so far as I can see toward paying the rector's salary.

"Before I came here the salary of this church was $1,500. After I came, I was informed that the salary would be $100 a month for a little while, but that the old salary would be soon restored. It never has been. The payments of the parson down salary have been very irregular. The condition of the church has been much mistreated.

"Our choir last Sunday contained twenty, while at its highest it was never more than fifty. Our service last Easter was as large as it ever has been and the Easter offering then was $300. It is true

"Mr. Reid, although a vestryman, doesn't pay but $1 for a whole pew in the front of the church. The rest of all the whole troubles came from our pews being sold for fifty cents—whole pews, bone and my other sickness from excess.

VALENTINE'S STAND.

The resignation of senior warden John J. Valentine comes as a big surprise.

He had been one of the pillars of the church. His withdrawal from the church has caused a great deal of talk.

TRYED TO PAY.

"The fact is, I was led into placing this case in the hands of a lawyer by my unfortunate experience in the case of another little bill. I owed $200 to a tradesman for the fixing of a stove. I tried to pay that bill. I spent two days in Judge Larue's court trying to pay that bill. It was increased, by court charges or on some pretext, first to $8.50 and then to $1 and a fraction. As a result of that experience, I concluded to let the lawyers attend to such business for me."

REAGAN'S STAND.

"There was scarcely an intermission between the concussions.

The first was a dull boom. Then came a rumbling roar, like an earthquake, accompanied by a deafening, rolling, and awful roar, which reverberated among the hills for miles and the shock shattered glass in every direction. The noise of gunpowder was well understood, but the explosion was too confused to give an intelligent account. There was no apparent danger at midnight, nor up to 2 o'clock when the underground manager, Thomas Johnson, was missing, last reported.

UP TO NOON.

"Up to noon thirteen bodies had been recovered. The exploded company in the work of about a mile and a half of the shaft had been caused by gunpowder which had accumulated in the old workings. The full force of workmen employed in the mine at night had stopped work and all but 50 had left the mine.

is not a doubt in my mind that the institution and maintenance of a protective tariff as one of the features of the government of this country was originally wise and right, and has been an essential, if not an indispensable factor in its success and welfare.

"When a tariff goes beyond the reasonable limits of protection, as our tariff does in some particulars, it has a natural effect to stimulate unmanufacturing industries, and over-production results. When this happens, over-production begats trusts for its suppression, and those things that Mr. Havemeyer says become the chief cause of the depression in that respect is normal, and has not yet sufficiently matured nor progressed far enough to justify sweeping conclusions or trenchant remedies. The drawing out of the tariff is a good and gradual thing, and the more reliable and useful.

The alleged basis on which combinations of manufacturers are based is the economies that result, because they have a right to a good share. To whatever extent that results the combination will stand, and Mr. Havemeyer is right in saying that it is idle and misleading to say that the combination is unnatural.

The Alden Tract is the most important of the situations to which I have referred to, in my opinion, does not admit of saying more than this at present."

MAYOR SNOW, in commenting upon the size of the water bills, says that in his opinion there is a leak somewhere. Of what description?

There is one consolation about the Philippine campaign. Luzon is a comparatively small island and Aguinaldo and his men haven't much farther to run. Then it will be a case of being between Uncle Sam and the deep blue sea.

Counterfeitors have had a comparatively easy time as long as they can make dollars of as pure silver as that contained in the genuine article and still rather in a profit of 20 or 30 per cent. There is a good point in this to advance when any free silver advocates are arrested.

A Chicago preacher has declared in his pulpit that any member of his congregation who entered a saloon should be shamed before he had a chance to leave it. If such dire punishment should be meted out it will, of course, be accomplished by means of a "muzzle-loader."

President Loubet is discovering that it is not a particularly easy task to form a new Cabinet. There are too many political screws loose, for one thing, and then again, so much bungling on the part of the present troubles that statements are wary about taking an active part in handling them.

Cheeseman is proving the truth of the old adage, "It takes a wise man to be a fool." He is easily outwitting the police forces of Oakland and San Francisco, despite all the cleverness he has given to his whereabouts and the circumstances with which they are endeavoring to round him up.

They are making quite a hullabaloo over in England about the fact that the House of Commons has adopted an amendment to the London Local Government Bill, declaring women eligible to election as aldermen and councillors. Surely a country that has a woman for its ruler should not object so strongly to woman suffrage.

Census Director Merriam is experiencing about as many of the shadows of office as he is of the sweets. The Congressmen from the Republican States insist upon Republican appointments, and will, of course, get them, but P. is another story when it comes to handling the demands of the Democratic Congressmen from the Democratic States, who also demand that the local patronage go to those of their own party. The situation is an interesting one, and Merriam will have to be quite a diplomat to get out of it with flying colors.

The silver cause has lost one of its most ardent and most able advocates in the death of Congressman "Duck" Blane of Missouri. Three years ago he was in the lead for the honor of being the Presidential standard-bearer of the silverites, when Bryan dashed upon the scene and gathered in all the laurels with his famous "boy orator" speech. Blane was by no means a bigot, and although he was thoroughly devoted to the silver cause, he was liberal enough in his ideas to keep up his old friendships in the opposition ranks. Missouri has good reason to mourn his death, for he was about the most popular man the State ever sent to Congress.

DISCOUNTING PERJURY.

Dr. Washington Dodge, the Assessor across the bay, has inaugurated a reform that, in the interests of integrity, as well as to the municipality, can well be followed throughout the country at large.

The scheme consists of putting a stop to the farcical valuations placed by people upon their personal property. Dr. Dodge cites one instance of an individual who is known to have fully $10,000 worth of furniture and valuables, and yet has underrated the value of his belongings at but $100. This is but one case of many of a similar nature, and there is no need to discuss that phase of the subject further, for it is a matter of common knowledge that the practice is general.

One aspect of the case is remarkable, and that is that reputable business men would be willing to perjure themselves when they verify their statements to the Assessor. It is a vicious practice, naturally from what stands of it, it is argued, and it is to be hoped that not only will Dr. Dodge succeed in inauguring a new order of things in his own city, but that it will spread elsewhere.

HIS WIFE IS NOT READY TO PROSECUTE

Clarence Simon has been arrested at the instance of his wife, who told the arresting officer that he had beaten her in a severe manner at their home on Bayard street. After Simon had been put behind the bars, his wife said that she did not want to testify against her husband. The case in the Police Court was continued till tomorrow to have a complaint filed. Simon is the young man who was accused of shooting his son-in-law, Harry, by shooting him in the abdomen. Simon was charged with mal-aughter, but was acquitted in the Superior Court.

BRAVE WOMEN WHO SAW FIGHTING AT MANILA

MRS. J. C. TUCKER * OAKLAND SOCIETY WOMEN WHO BRAVED THE TERRORS OF WAR AND WENT ON THE FIRING LINE MISS MAY TUCKER

A Story for the Swell Set of Oakland

Book from a trip sixty-three days of which were spent on water, back from a visit to Manila where the sharpest of the engagements between American soldiers and Filipinos were taking place.

Mrs. J. C. Tucker, widow of the late Dr. Tucker and her charming daughter, Miss May Tucker, are enjoying apartments at the Hotel Montvale.

In January of the present year, Mrs. Tucker and her daughter started on a journey to India. They pushed out on the Pacific in the face of a storm which would have daunted any save those who fear little while upon the deep. They called at Honolulu, paid visits of a couple of weeks at Yokohama, traveled or while at Shanghai, sojourned at Hongkong, took a glimpse at Canton, revisited Hongkong, risked their lives near Manila, and then turned their faces toward home to east. They had intended to spend the summer in the land of Mikado, as Mr. Tucker puts it, "it was to our home in Oakland, so we came right along, wanted to see my daughter and wife." Mrs. Tucker says to whom the passengers of the steamers as they arrive and publish them. It would be of interest to the arrivals as also to their friends at home. Our names and those of the other passengers were first to be published in this way and the pedigree has been kept up since. Mr. Brooks now goes to the front. I think to you news to send it for Mr. Greenman.

RELIEF FOR THE BOYS.

"We went to Manila because some friends sent us to us at Hongkong that we might not miss it because it was so noted and because we were so near to the sea. When we reached there, we decided to go to the General Hospital and India as a volunteer from this State and it was he who started the first English paper there which is called "The American".

AT MANILA.

"We left here in January," said Mrs. Tucker, referring to her diary, "and arrived in Manila Sunday, March 6th. The boy was filled with war ships and there was evidence on all sides of the effects of war. The men had been awaiting law to aid and were glad when he came. We went at once to the General Hospital, for the soldiers. There was a large number of these at the time, in an adjoining section, there were 500 wounded, mostly cuts and of them were being attended by our surgeons. The hospital and Indians were under the direction of Dr. Greenman."

"The first person to meet us that I knew, when we reached Manila, and before we left the ship was Dr. Bruce, an Oakland boy. He was quite a doctor and was very glad to see us.

I noticed that Yankee enterprise is taking hold of the place and doing a great deal to benefit it. Just think of them having introduced street sweepers and street sweeping there. The street sweeper is Mr. Pihler, the son of of notice that Yankees enterprise is taking hold of the place and doing a great deal to benefit it. Just think of them having introduced street sweepers and street sweeping there. The street

GOING ALREADY.

"The result of this act of perfidy was effective, showing how deeply Miss Tucker condemned the treachery of the natives of the place. Continuing, she said: "The hats of the natives are all raised above the ground, and the people fight under and around them. All but men are looking very well. There were very few low of the California boys who looked badly."

GOING ALREADY.

"In about ten years," said Miss Tucker, "I have no doubt that Manila will be a health resort. Everything grows quickly there, but it is a rough trip to get there on account of the mountains."

"The trip from Manila to Hongkong requires three days. It was so rough that it was impossible to remain about. We had to go to bed for safety. When we reached Hongkong we were so tired by the Manila excitement and roughness of the return voyage that we abandoned our trip to India. We will probably leave for the Paris Exposition in September and approach India from that direction."

STOUT MEN'S JOY.

No More Worry About Seasonable Clothing That Will Fit the Form.

"Seasonable summer suits sold for a song" may sound too literally to be true; but if the proverbial song stands for a price that is only a small part of the value of the article purchased, then the quotation is literally true.

The firm of Brown Bros. & Co., the wholesale and manufacturing clothiers at 121-123 Sansome street, made up a much larger stock of spring and summer clothing than their salesmen knew how to dispose of to the trade last winter, when the skies were bright. The drop prospects black and the merchandise correspondingly blue. Apparently they don't give a "rap" for their wholesale trade in the city of San Francisco—for here they are, offering this big overstock at retail direct to the people, and at prices calculated to make a clothing dealer stand agape.

Whoever would have thought that right at the height of the season—when hot weather is here and a liberal supply is promised us by the weather prophet—such a good all-weather, seasonable suit should be obtainable for the trifling sum of $5.75? Or that first class apparel, retailing usually as high as $25, should be offered you cheerfully as high as $11.75?

This is nothing less than a feast for the eyes. No need of a light season apparel is greater and who has such difficulty in getting clothes to fit without being heavily mulated by your tailor? Brown Bros. & Co. have a wholesale concern, and an assortment of sizes such as no retail house in the country could afford to carry, and few are the men of large frame and complexion who cannot be properly fitted here in ready.

In fact they make a specialty of this class of trade, so as to enjoy the patronage of the men who would never think of visiting the fitter inside the ordinary clothing store.

THINGS DESTROYED.

There has been a great deal of damage done to the surrounding country. The gardens have been destroyed," said Miss Tucker. "That is because some of the trees were cut down by the Spaniards and others were cut down or deprived of their branches, because sharp-shooters used to hide in them and pick off some of our men with their guns. Many were destroyed. As soon as insurgents returned, they made a dash to take possession of hills still standing, they are driven out and the boats are burned.

There was one notable case of robbery," continued Mrs. Tucker. "It was that of a pretended funeral. It left Manila and proceeded along the main road, apparently on the road to the cemetery. The road led in the direction of the outside part of the town where the firing line was. There was a narrow path which was surrounded by a number of men disguised as mourners. This suspicion of the bandits aroused. The funeral was stopped. The hearse was opened. The coffin was found filled with ammunition. The coffin was opened. There was no corpse in it. It was, however, filled with ammunition also. The ammunition was seized and the mourning Filipinos were arrested.

ON THIS FIRING LINE.

"I went to the firing line one day, although not encouraged to do so in a very demonstrative manner. I went out with Lieutenant Brooks of San Francisco and returned with Captain Boyd of Washington. I found the First California boys in the trenches. I was not afraid. There were shots being fired at the time. They

GOLDEN GATE ENTERS PROTEST.

Grave Charge Made Against School Directors—Sell the City Hall.

Stephen Dewing startled the members of a new City Hall and a Library building favoring selling the present

site and using the proceeds to purchase
a new site and erect a new building;

against waiting for the consolidation

of the city and county governments

and improvements made. The club also placed

itself on record to the effect that it

thought the cost of the improvements

should not exceed the amount derived from the sale of the present site and buildings.

A communication was received by the club from Councilman Cuvelier in an answer to the request of the club that the City Council pass an ordinance to change the name of the above streets from the names on Sun Pablo avenue and six or eight-inch mains on the cross streets.

Mr. Cuvelier stated that the Fire and Police Commissioners had recommended

the name of Fremont and Twelfth street in the city and the name of Valencia and Twelfth Street in the valley.

The following members were elective to represent the club at a meeting of the Central Club:

Chairman H. L. Atwood, Vice-Chairman L. A. Childs, Secretary, W. L. Agler, Treasurer, J. E. Dowling and President L. A. Tracy.

D. A. McIntosh and Isaac Winchell were elected members.

S. Dewing made a vigorous protest against removing the Ninth avenue from the city and changing its name to Eleventh and Twelfth street.

Mr. Agler in regard to the establishment of a ticket office and a waiting room to replace the present station, was granted for further time.

PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS.

The question propounded by the City Council in regard to public improvements was then considered. The club voted in favor of a new City Hall and a Library

building favoring selling the present

site and using the proceeds to purchase

a new site and erect a new building;

against waiting for the consolidation

of the city and county governments

and improvements made. The club also placed

itself on record to the effect that it

thought the cost of the improvements

should not exceed the amount derived

from the sale of the present site and

buildings.

On recommendation of a number of residents of Eleventh and Twelfth street it was decided to rescind the previous order to the Board of Education not to name the street after the city and county governments.
